

Simona Morone Prize 2021

Background

The prize is dedicated to the loving memory of Simona Morone, a Biological Scientist who won the “Damiano per l’Ematologia 2015” scholarship award. During her very young professional life she passionately dedicated herself to the study of the oncotarget CD157 at the Laboratory of Immunogenetics of the University of Turin. The purpose of this prize is to reward a scholar who addressed unanswered questions on the biology of hematologic malignancies through an insightful, state-of-the-art review of the literature, thus disseminating their unbiased views to a vast audience. The amount of the prize is of € 2,000.

Eligibility criteria

The prize will be awarded to the author of a review published or accepted for publication in 2020, concerning one of the following topics:

- genomics and/or epigenomics of hematologic malignancies
- cellular and/or molecular mechanisms of the tumor-immune system interactions
- new technologies for precision medicine in hematology.

To be eligible, candidate must satisfy the following criteria:

- 1 – Being single or first author
- 2 – The paper must be a review of literature
- 3 – The paper must be written in English
- 4 – The candidate must have received no funding from for-profit organizations for the review
- 5 – 2016-2020 hI, annual of the journal > 5

How to participate

Candidate must send an email from her/his institutional account attaching a signed letter to concorsi@damianoperlematologia.it by May 31, 2021. The letter must contain the candidate’s first name, middle name and last name, the full citation of the review, and the 2016-2020 hI, annual of the journal where the review was published obtained from the Harzing’s “Publish or Perish” program using Google Scholar as database.

Evaluation criteria

The candidates will be graded solely on the basis of the hI,annual of the journal. The results of the selection process will be posted on the official website of “Damiano per l’Ematologia” (www.damianoperlematologia.it) by July 1, 2021. In the event of a tie the prize will be divided equally among the winners.

The prize will be paid in euros through bank credit by July 31, 2021

Contacts

For questions or more informations please send an e-mail to concorsi@damianoperlematologia.it

The Simona Morone Prize 2021 is an event organized by the non-profit associations “Damiano per l’Ematologia “ and “Guarda oltre ciò che vedi”